

Plan 1: Directors & Officers/Employment Practices Liability Insurance

RPS Signature Programs combined plan of Directors & Officers (D&O) liability and Employment Practices Liability insurance (EPLI) provides protection for lawsuits stemming from actual or alleged wrongful acts, and errors and omissions against the directors and officers of not-for-profit sports organizations, as well as their employees and volunteers. The policy provides protection for suits brought against the sports organization as an entity, as well as individuals, whether paid or not, who are acting in an official capacity on behalf of the organization.

This plan does not provide coverage for lawsuits involving bodily injury or property damage. Those types of claims are meant to be covered under the organization's general liability policy.

Please note: This coverage is written on a claims-made basis. All claims under this policy must be reported to the insurance company within the policy term in order to be eligible for coverage.

Examples of Directors & Officers/Employment Practices Liability Claims Scenarios

- Discrimination: Lawsuits alleging discrimination can arise when a league chooses one coach over another, or when selecting players for elite or all-star teams.
- Sexual harassment: Whether in the office or out on the field, a member of the organization may harass a volunteer, player or other employees. Not to be confused with sexual abuse (which is a bodily injury), harassment claims are among the most common types of claims under this policy.
- Wrongful suspension/dismissal: How the organization disciplines or terminates coaches, players or even board members, when they violate the code of behavior, can often result in a lawsuit.
- Acting beyond authority: In the event, a coach, board member or volunteer makes decisions beyond their authority, a lawsuit may arise. Even in cases where they are simply enforcing existing rules, people who don't like those rules can file a lawsuit.

For-profit organizations are not eligible for coverage under this program. Contact RPS Signature Programs for a quote.
